FIRST AID AUXILIARY FOR HOME GUARDS

Seven Hundred Men Being Trained Here by Dr. Glazebrook.

In the near future a delegation of between 700 and 800 men, skilled in the art of administering first-aid to the injured, will be turned over to the local home guard and the Red Cross.

For the past several weeks these men have been trained in their work of mercy by Dr. L. W. Glazebrook, a prominent local physician, who has been working under instructions from the National and District Defense Councils. The personnel of the corps has been recruited from the departments here, and so far more than 700 of the 800 recruits have qualified.

Officials of the Washington home guard are making an effort to have the units from the various precincts uniform themselves, as did 8,000 of the 11,000 in the New York home guard. The kind, style and color of the uniforms will be left to the members for selection.

Prospective Benedict Lacks Registry Card

"No registration card, no marriage license." This acerbic harsh verdict from Col. W. A. Kroll, presiding genius at the marriage license counter, was the answer to Paul Mockabee, 34 McLean avenue southwest, when Mockabee applied late yesterday afternoon for a license to wed Miss Emma Scharob, 200 M street southeast. Some one phoned asking that young Mockabee be refused a license until his parents consented to the match.

Five minutes later Mockabee strolled in. Col. Kroll demanded his registration card, after he had insisted several times that he was 21 years of age. Mockabee says he has registered and promised to be on hand today with his registration card.

PIE VENDOR SUES RAILWAY.

The Washington Railway and Electric Company and the Potomac Electric Power Company were made defendants in a suit to recover $25,000 damages filed in the District Supreme Court by Harry Tate, driver of a pie wagon. Tate alleges a motor truck load of strikebreakers traveling at a speed of twenty-five miles an hour collided with the wagon he was driving and, besides injuring him, destroyed $30 worth of pies.

SANGSTER'S ESTIMATE GOES INTO RECORD

W. R. & E. Counsel Unable to Rule Out Expert's Testimony.

Failure on the part of the officials of the Washington Railway and Electric Company to have stricken from the record of the hearing the testimony of Andrew Sangster on the valuation of their properties resulted in a prolonged discussion as to the justification of the eliminations made by the chief accountant of the Public Utilities Commission when the hearing was resumed yesterday before Engineer Commissioner Kutz.

Chambers on the elimination of the accountant's testimony from the record of the proceedings were overruled by Commissioner Kutz, although the company noted the right of reserving an exception.

Mr. Sangster said he was unable to account for some of the eliminations made by subordinates and approved by him. Col. Kutz stated that it would be impossible for a man to keep in mind all the details of a task so involved as Mr. Sangster's.

Mr. Ham, cross questioning Sangster on the method of making his report, directed his attention to an item relating to the Glen Echo Park property of the company, in which he declared that Sangster had departed from his system in this instance, giving the cost as that to the present owners, instead of the cost of the property to the original owners. The difference in this item involved a considerable amount of money.

Mrs. McCord Asks Damages.

Margaret H. B. McCord has instituted suit in the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia for $200 damages against the Capital Traction Company and the District. The declaration alleges that on the night of November 6, 1916, Mrs. McCord was a passenger on a car of the Capital Traction Company, and after alighting at the corner of Fourteenth and Q streets, she stepped in a ditch which was left in an unguarded condition. She is represented by Attorney James B. Archer and Harry H. Hollander.
